

Name of article: THE INEQUALITY OF LABOR GRADUATES OF ELECTROMEDICAL ENGINEER WOMEN IN MEDICAL DEVICE, HOSPITAL AND HEALTH EQUIPMENT FACILITIES.

Comments from reviewers: OVERALL RATING 4/5

It is a good and publishable article, which discussed the inequality of labor graduates of electromedical engineer women in medical device, hospital and health equipment facilities.

But I suggest the author consider;

- Please revise your article based on the template on this page: iiste.org/journals
- Background information is required in the abstract: what is the background and what makes the topic significant? Please add 2-3 sentences in the abstract;
- “This trend is prevalent in many Nigerian communities. Studies have shown that structural disadvantages suffered by most Nigerian women also limit their potentials and, in turn, provide higher levels of power, prestige, and reward to the men..” Please add a reference after this sentence;
- The authors may consider adding a few newly published related articles, such as <https://journals.plos.org/plosone/article?id=10.1371/journal.pone.0203606>
- Please add possible future research directions at the end of the article, just 2-3 sentences;

The author may need extra time to work on that but it's already a very good article.

Decision: Acceptance with Content with minor revision.

Name of article: THE INEQUALITY OF LABOR GRADUATES OF ELECTROMEDICAL ENGINEER WOMEN IN MEDICAL DEVICE, HOSPITAL AND HEALTH EQUIPMENT FACILITIES.

Comments from tworeviewers: OVERALL RATING 5/5

It is a good and publishable article, with insightful results. The author(s) have solid writing skills. It's already a very good article. I would like to recommend it for publication.

Decision: Acceptance with content unaltered.